

Social and Personal

Women interested in the Japanese and sympathizing with them in their struggle with Russia will be pleased to know something about the poem which, although not a hymn, takes the place in Japanese minds and hearts of the British "God Save the King," or the American "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." It is sung to a native air, the custom being to sing the poem through thrice, and when thus rendered by a large and enthusiastic company, it is often truly impressive.

The poem itself is very old, being found in the "Manyoshu," which dates from about the middle of the eighth century. The author of the poem is not known. As originally composed, it was not addressed to the actual ruler, but to the emperor, who had gone into retirement. Now, however, it is exclusively applied to the reigning sovereign. The poem consists of the usual number of thirty-one syllables, and runs as follows:

"Kimi ga yo wa
Chūyo ni yachūyo ni
Sazareishi no
Iwao to narite
Koke no musu made."

So far as is known, only two English translations have been published. One of these is by Viscount Fukushima, and closely following the original reads thus: "May our sovereign live for thousands and ten thousands of years, until the tiny pebble becomes a moss-covered rock."

Meeting of Richmond Chapter, U. D. C.

The Richmond Chapter of the U. D. C. met yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Lee Camp Hall.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Mrs. Walter Christian, re-elected first vice-president; Mrs. Kate Winn, second vice-president; Mrs. Hugh Miller, treasurer; Mrs. T. Crawford Redd, corresponding; and Mrs. B. A. Blenner, recording secretary. Many reports were expressed over the fact that Mrs. Blenner could not be present on account of her mother's illness. Her annual report—a very comprehensive and exhaustive review of the past year's work and its results—was listened to with great appreciation. It will be printed and widely distributed among members of the Richmond Chapter and the Daughters of the Confederacy generally.

The Stuart Monument Fund came under consideration, and plans for an entertainment to raise money for it were discussed.

It was decided that the chapter will give $10 in money instead of a medal to the high school pupil who writes the best essay on "The Life and Character of Jefferson Davis." Miss Nellie Spence is chairman of the committee to arrange for the essay competition. The prize will be awarded by a committee of gentlemen.

Wedding Announcement.

The marriage, on the 16th of March, is announced of Miss Mary Hanks Smith to Captain George Henry Kinzel, the well known and popular city treasurer of Winchester, Va.

The ceremony will take place at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the place being the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Smith, of No. 130 Peyton Street, Winchester. After their bridal trip, Mr. and Mrs. Kinzel will make their home at "Glen Lee," the suburban home of Treasurer Kinzel.

Mr. Carr Held Winning Number. The gold watch and chain given by Mr. J. H. Carr to the Virginia State at the Confederate Bazaar, held in Richmond last spring, was drawn for Saturday, February 13th. The winning number—37—was held by Mr. Cary Peyton Carr, who received the watch.

Washington's Birthday.

The executive committee of the Washington's Birthday Celebration Association are making elaborate preparations for the suitable observance of February 22nd in Alexandria, Va. The Richmond military will be among the visiting organizations to assemble in Alexandria. The United States dispatch boat Dolphin has been ordered by Secretary Moody to anchor off the city and fire a salute on the 22d.

Pound Party.

The pound party, and reception held at the Retreat for the Sick yesterday by the lady board of managers was a great success.

The rooms were handsomely decorated with American Beauties, jonquils and carnations, which were sent by the different Richmond florists. Refreshments were served and visitors were all accorded a cordial welcome.

Over a hundred dollars in money, six or eight barrels of flour, groceries of all kinds and household stores were sent in during the day, so the ladies felt that the twenty-eighth anniversary of the institution was well kept.

Kelley—Kappes.

Miss Mary Kappes and Mr. J. B. Kelley were married at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening in the home of the bride on Venable Street, the Rev. Dr. DeLoux officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelley left after the ceremony for a Northern tour, from which they will return to reside in Richmond this home.

Mr. McBryde Entertains. The Philadelphia Daily Evening Telegraph of Tuesday, February 15th, says: "Mr. Meade Bolton McBryde gives a tea at the Philadelphia Divinity School; this afternoon, between 4 and 6 o'clock. Miss Julia E. Massey, of Haverford, presides at the tea table. The decorations are in red."

This item contains interest for Mr. McBryde's many friends and relatives in Richmond.

Personal Mention.

The following clipping, taken from the Winchester News-Item of this week, says: "Mr. Fairfax E. Montague, of Richmond, who has been in Winchester since yesterday morning on business in connection with the Southern Bell Telephone and Telephone Company, returned to his home this morning. Mr. Montague is the superintendent for the State of the Bell Company, and is a young business man of exceptional talents. With marked ability Mr. Montague combines an attractive personality, and during his several visits to Winchester he has added to the already large list of his friends."

Mrs. R. H. Lindsay and the Misses Lindsay are spending some time in New York city.

Mrs. John Purcell Striker, of Winchester, whose marriage in the Catholic Church at Washington, D. C., this week, came in the nature of a surprise to her friends, is a daughter of the late Thomas J. Massey and a sister of the Rev. John Massey, of this city.

Miss Nellie McHugh, of Norfolk, Va., is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. W. W. Stumper, of this city.

The results of the tea given by the Old Dominion Chapter, D. A. R., for the benefit of the Baltimore sufferers was most gratifying, nearly fifty dollars in money being taken in and several very liberal contributions sent.

Williams was Fined. Charged With Carrying Concealed Weapon—Police Court.

LET THE TOAST PASS.

BY SHERIDAN.

Richard Brinsley Butler Sheridan was born in Dublin, Oct. 30, 1751; died in London July 7, 1816. He was the son of a teacher of rhetoric, who wrote a life of Swift, and was the grandson of Dr. Sheridan, Swift's friend. His mother was also an author. He was educated at the famous English school of Harrow. In 1778 he married Elizabeth Linley, the daughter of a composer. In 1779 he and friends bought an interest in Drury Lane Theatre. He wrote "The Rivals," "The Duenna," "Pizarro," "The Critic" and "The School for Scandal," from which the following poem is taken. He was under-secretary of foreign affairs in 1782 and a member of parliament for Stafford. He was a great parliamentary speaker, his most famous speeches being those on Warren Hastings and the French revolution. In 1806 he was appointed receiver of the duchy of Cornwall, and the same year treasurer of the navy. He was twice married. His second wife was the daughter of the dean of Winchester. His theatre was burned down in 1809. Seven years later he died of cholera. In great poverty. More, in his poem, "Lines on the Death of Sheridan," expressed his indignation at the treatment Sheridan received from summer-time friends. Said he:

O it sickens the heart to see sooms so hollow,
And splits so mean in the great and high-born;
To think what a long line of titles may follow
The relics of him who died friendless and lone!

Of Sheridan he said:
Whose humor as gay as the fire's light
Played round every subject and shone as it played;
Whose wit, in the combat, as gentle as bright,
Never carried a heart-stain away on its blade.

Sheridan was given a magnificent funeral in Westminster Abbey, which led Moore to say:
How proud they can press to the funeral array
Of one whom they shunned in his sickness and sorrow;
How halts may be held by nobles to-morrow!
Whose pall shall be held up by nobles to-morrow!

ERE'S to the maiden of bashful fifteen;
Here's to the widow of fifty;
Here's to the flaunting extravagant queen,
And here's to the housewife that's thrifty.
Let the toast pass,
Drink to the lass,
I'll warrant she'll prove an excuse for the glass.
Here's to the charmer whose dimples we prize,
Now to the maid who has none, sir;
Here's to the girl with the pair of blue eyes,
And here's to the nymph with but one, sir.
Let the toast pass,
Drink to the lass,
I'll warrant she'll prove an excuse for the glass.

Here's to the maid with a bosom of snow;
Now to her that's as brown as a berry;
Here's to the wife with a face full of woe,
And now to the damsel that's merry.
Let the toast pass,
Drink to the lass,
I'll warrant she'll prove an excuse for the glass.

For let 'em be clumsy, or let 'em be slim,
Young or ancient, I care not a feather;
So fill a pint bumper quite up to the rim,
So fill up your glasses, nay, fill to the brim,
And let us e'en toast them together.
Let the toast pass,
Drink to the lass,
I'll warrant she'll prove an excuse for the glass.

GREAT SHOCK TO SENATOR

Mr. Daniel Gets News of Death of Kinsman Soon After Letter From Him.

MARTIN OFF FOR CLEVELAND

Junior Virginia Senator Accompanies the Remains of Senator Hanna—Marriage Licenses.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 12.—Senator Daniel received a long letter yesterday from his kinsman, Mr. William Daniel Cabell, of Berryville. This morning early he received a telegram announcing the death of Mr. Cabell a few hours before. The unexpected news was a great shock to the Senator. Mr. Cabell was the son of a paternal aunt of Senator Daniel.

Senator Martin left this afternoon with the special committee from the Senate to attend the funeral of Senator Hanna. Joseph Simon, of Richmond, who has been a Democratic attaché on the floor of the House, accompanied the committee from that body.

The following couples were licensed to wed in Washington to-day: John O. Shaeffer and Daisy Smith, both of Charlottesville; William F. Warner and Lillian M. Hoerner, both of Richmond.

BANQUET POSTPONED.

The banquet of the Washington Chapter of the Virginia Military Institute Alumni, which was to have been held at the New Willard hotel, was postponed until the 18th of March on account of the death of Senator Hanna.

Secretary of War Taft, who was to have been the guest of honor at the banquet, could not attend, owing to the death of the senator from his State, and the date to which the banquet was postponed was the earliest on which he could be present. Senator Martin, who is an alumnus of the Institute and who was to have been a prominent figure at the banquet, could not have attended, as he was on the special committee which went to Cleveland to attend the funeral of Senator Hanna.

THE VIRGINIA KITCHEN.

This to be Made One of the Features at the World's Fair.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 12.—The Eastern Press Bureau of the World's Fair, at Washington, is advised that the Virginia kitchen, designed primarily to demonstrate the food values of the sweet potato, has been proposed by the Virginia World's Fair Commission. George Murrell, superintendent and treasurer of the commission, and Horace Kirkwood, one of the leading restaurateurs of Richmond, Va., have applied to Director of Concessions Greer for the concession. The Virginia commission at first projected such a demonstration in the Fairgrounds, but facilities were lacking there, and the plan was changed. The demonstration is to be conducted under the auspices of the Eastern Shore Produce Exchange of Virginia, which includes in its membership the largest handlers of sweet potatoes on earth. Joined with this agency are a number of Virginia food producers, who wish to exploit their wares in the Virginia kitchen. Among them are the Smithfield ham men, the Suppersong wine dealers, and Fursteln, the Norfolk oyster dealer.

Such characteristic food kitchens will be a feature of the exposition. Among them are the rice kitchen, the New England kitchen, the poultry farm and the Southern kitchen. In almost all the geographical concessions, the foods for which the countries illustrated are known will be served.

ALBANIANS ROUTED BY SHEMSHI PASHA

(By Associated Press.)

SALONICA, MACEDONIA, Feb. 12.—The Albanians, who were besieging Shemshi Pasha, who, with 2,500 Turkish troops and three guns, was yesterday reported to be besieged by 20,000 Albanians at Bahajoshi, have been routed, losing eight hundred men killed and wounded. The Turkish losses are said to be heavy. Five additional battalions of troops have been ordered to Verlovich.

FIFTY YEARS OF SUCCESS.

(By Associated Press.)

Fifty years ago an eminent specialist prescribed Father John's Medicine for the late Rev. Dr. John O'Brien, of Lowell, Mass., by whom it was recommended and from whom it derived its name. It is not a patent medicine and is free from opium, morphine or poisonous drugs, or weakening stimulants in any form, such as the majority of patent preparations depend upon for their temporary effect, and which are dangerous—you are warned against them. It makes flesh and strength and builds up the body. Prevents pneumonia and consumption, cures bronchitis, asthma, and all throat and lung troubles. Guaranteed. Father John's Medicine is for sale by Owens & Minor Drug Store, No. 144 East Main Street; City Drug Store, No. 144 East Main Street; Providence Drug Store, No. 890 Williamsburg Avenue; North Side Pharmacy, No. 901 North Fifth Street; Pine Street Pharmacy, No. 234 South Fifth Street; East Pharmacy, No. 2301 Venable Street.

The Swayne Trial.

(By Associated Press.)

TALLAHASSEE, FLA., Feb. 12.—The congressional committee appointed to investigate the alleged charges against Judge Charles Swayne, after being in session several days at Pensacola, arrived here late this afternoon, and at once commenced business in the United States Courthouse. A number of witnesses were brought from West Florida and J. M. Burns from Jacksonville. One witness was examined before supper. His testimony was very unimportant. The attorney seems to be quite industrious, but the investigation seems to drag.
